Give Me An Answer Conference

Each year hundreds of students gather on Boyce College's campus to worship, learn and fellowship together under the leadership of world class theologians and student ministers at the Give Me An Answer (GMAA) conference.

Powerful worship, dynamic teaching and tactical breakout sessions are the hallmark of GMAA. Every GMAA conference is based on a different theme, but what remains the same is the conference's ability to equip students with biblical answers to relevant questions and life experiences.

Critical issues like idolatry, sex, temptation and creation are part of the GMAA curriculum. These issues are discussed in a format that allows for students to deepen their Christian worldview and develop their understanding of how to interact with non-believers and defend their faith.

If you are a student that wants to be challenged to search deep within your heart for answers to your biblical questions, then GMAA provides an opportunity to edify your faith and develop friendships with peers that share your Christian worldview.

More information on GMAA can be found at www.sbts.edu/events
